Participation in the «Key Digital Technologies/Chips JU» European Partnership, aims to encourage local enterprises and other organisations to participate in transnational research and development projects in the Electronic Components and Systems area. Furthermore, the participation in the Partnership aims to promote the networking and collaboration between Cypriot and foreign organisations through the participation in transnational industrial research and development projects.

DESCRIPTION

«European Partnerships» Programme offers the opportunity to local organisations to participate in transnational research and innovation projects in sectors and thematic areas of high importance for Cyprus. Furthermore, the Programme promotes the extroversion of local enterprises and research organisations, and their collaboration and networking with foreign organisations through their participation in projects implemented in the frame of the European Partnerships in which the country participates.

European Partnerships are initiatives where the EU, national authorities and/or the private sector jointly commit to support the development and implementation of a programme of research and innovation activities. Partnerships will:

- address complex challenges outlined in «Horizon Europe» Programme, such as accelerating the transitions towards a society and economy that are climate neutral and circular,
- support the achievement of EU priorities, such as the European Green Deal, a Europe fit for the digital age, an economy that works for people, and a stronger Europe in the world,

- ⬡ be impact-driven by deploying a broad range of R&I activities, from concept to demonstration and validation, to those supporting market, regulatory and societal uptake, and
- ⬡ contribute to a stronger European Research Area (ERA), by avoiding the duplication of efforts, creating critical scales of investment and enhancing synergies between programmes.

The «Key Digital Technologies/Chips JU» European Partnership, is a public-private partnership managing a research and innovation programme aiming to reinforce the EU's strategic autonomy in the electronic components and systems sector.

More specifically, through the funded projects KDT Partnership/Chips JU aims to ensure that the EU has the necessary expertise in key enabling technologies to be a competitive leader of the world's digital economy. This includes developing advanced semiconductors and applications that are critical to European society and contribute to the EU digital strategy and the European Green Deal.

Through the Programme, research and innovation projects are implemented by transnational consortia which consist organisations from the participating countries in the Programme. Central submission and evaluation procedures are followed, while participating organisations are funded both by the EU and by their respective national funding organisations.

«Focus Topic on High Performance RISC-V Automotive Processors supporting SDV (IA)», and «Focus Topic on Service Oriented Framework for the Software Defined Vehicle of the future (IA)», support the implementation of Experimental Development Projects in the aforementioned thematic areas, as described in the Work Programme 2023-2027 of the KDT Partnership/Chips JU.
